

SPECIALIST FOR STORAGE LOGISTICS

Despatch processing, commissioning, stock-keeping as well as logistic organisation belong to the work contents of a specialist for storage logistics.

Specialists for storage logistics accept commodities, check goods, freight documents and put transport receptacles to the right place, e. g. with the help of a forklift. Commissioning and packaging of commodities, checking stock, creating loading lists as well as despatch and accompanying documents are some of their typical tasks.

Therefore, a specialist for storage logistics applies operational information and communication systems as well as standard software.
